

The Mordecai M. Kaplan Center for Jewish Peoplehood and Adat Shalom Reconstructionist Congregation

PRESENT

A Shabbat

WITH

RABBI DR. SHAUL MAGID

Shaul Magid is one of the most knowledgeable — and provocative — Jewish scholars and public intellectuals in the world today. We're thrilled to welcome him to Adat Shalom for Shabbat, March 13-14, and to continue learning with him on Sunday, March 15, at Ohev Sholom. Please join us for any or all of the following programs:

Friday evening, March 13 Adat Shalom Reconstructionist Congregation

- 6:15 PM Shabbat happy "hour"
- 6:45 PM Shabbat candlelighting, blessings and dinner. Reservations required; go to www.adatshalom.net
- 7:45 PM Kabbalat Shabbat
- 8:30 PM Opening Presentation with Shaul Magid, The Path I Have Traveled: A Spiritual Autobiography
- 9:30 PM Oneg Shabbat

Yom Shabbat, March 14; Adat Shalom

- 9:30 AM Morning prayers
- 10:30 AM Torah service
- 11:00 AM D'var Torah by Shaul Magid
- 12:00 PM Shabbat lunch; all are welcome
- 1:15 PM The Future of the American Jew: Mordecai Kaplan's Vision Reappraised
Text study and interview with Shaul Magid and Dan Cedarbaum, co-founder and Executive Director of the Kaplan Center.

7727 Persimmon Tree Lane
Bethesda, MD 20817
301.767.3333
info@adatshalom.net
www.adatshalom.net

Rabbi Dr. Shaul Magid, a noted scholar and prolific author, is professor of Jewish Studies at Dartmouth College, Kogod Senior Research Fellow at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America, Tablet Magazine contributing editor, and rabbi of the Fire Island Synagogue.

The Mordecai M. Kaplan Center for Jewish Peoplehood and Adat Shalom Reconstructionist Congregation

PRESENT

A Shabbat

WITH

RABBI DR. SHAUL MAGID

Shaul Magid is one of the most knowledgeable — and provocative — Jewish scholars and public intellectuals in the world today. We're thrilled to welcome him to Adat Shalom for Shabbat, March 13-14, and to continue learning with him on Sunday, March 15, at Ohev Sholom. Please join us for any or all of the following programs:

Friday evening, March 13

Adat Shalom Reconstructionist Congregation

6:15 PM Shabbat happy "hour"

6:45 PM Shabbat candlelighting, blessings and dinner. Reservations required; go to www.adatshalom.net

7:45 PM Kabbalat Shabbat

8:30 PM Opening Presentation with Shaul Magid, The Path I Have Traveled: A Spiritual Autobiography

9:30 PM Oneg Shabbat

Yom Shabbat, March 14; Adat Shalom

9:30 AM Morning prayers

10:30 AM Torah service

11:00 AM D'var Torah by Shaul Magid

12:00 PM Shabbat lunch; all are welcome

1:15 PM The Future of the American Jew: Mordecai Kaplan's Vision Reappraised

Text study and interview with Shaul Magid and Dan Cedarbaum, co-founder and Executive Director of the Kaplan Center.

7727 Persimmon Tree Lane
Bethesda, MD 20817
301.767.3333
info@adatshalom.net
www.adatshalom.net

Rabbi Dr. Shaul Magid, a noted scholar and prolific author, is professor of Jewish Studies at Dartmouth College, Kogod Senior Research Fellow at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America, Tablet Magazine contributing editor, and rabbi of the Fire Island Synagogue.